

About the Authors

---

JOSELITO D. DELOS REYES is currently a resident fellow of the UST Center for Creative Writing and Literary Studies and a research fellow of the UST Research Center for Culture, Arts and Humanities. He has published a collection of poetry, two National Book Award-winning collections of essays about social media, and a short story collection. Delos Reyes has won several awards and citations from the National Book Development Board, the NCCA Writers Prize, and the Maningning Miclat Awards for Poetry. He is a regular popular culture opinion contributor for Abante and the Philippines Graphic Magazine. He is the 2013 Makata ng Taon, an award given by the Komisyon sa Wikang Filipino. He is a member of LIRA, UMPIL, Museo Valenzuela Foundation, and Lucban Historical Society. He is a board member of Philippine Center of International PEN. He teaches creative writing, research, and popular culture at UST where he also chairs the Literature Department.

U Z. ELISERIO teaches popular culture at the Departamento ng Filipino at Panitikan ng Pilipinas at the University of the Philippines. He is the author of Kami sa Lahat ng Mataba (2016, UST Publishing House), a collection of criticism.

RAMON GUILLERMO is Professor of Philippine Studies at the Dept. of Filipino and Philippine Literature, University of the Philippines Diliman. He has written several studies on the literary, cultural and political relations between the Philippines and Indonesia. His most recent book is 3 Baybayin Studies (University of the Philippines Press, 2017).

MA. GABRIELA P. MARTIN is an instructor at the English Department of Ateneo de Manila University where she finished a Bachelor of Arts degree in Humanities and a Master of Arts degree in Literary and Cultural Studies. Her articles have appeared in Kritika Kultura, an online journal of Ateneo de Manila. Her research interests are in the areas of Marxist theory, metropolitan postcolonialism, and feminist critique. She is a managing editor of Kritika Kultura.

NGUYEN QUANG TIEN has a Ph.D. in English Language and Literature from the Ateneo de Manila University in the Philippines. He is currently a lecturer of English in the English Department at the University of Economics and Finance (UEF), Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam. His research interests are teacher cognition, ESL writing, teacher development, teaching methodology, and World Englishes. He has presented and published papers in international journals (e.g., Asian Englishes and International Journal of Innovation in English Language Teaching and Research) and conferences.

ROLANDO B. TOLENTINO is faculty of University of the Philippines Film Institute and former dean of the UP College of Mass Communication. He is Director of the UP Institute of Creative Writing where he also serves as fellow. He has taught at the Osaka University, National University of Singapore, and University of California, Berkeley. His research interests include Philippine literature, popular culture, cinema and media, interfacing national and transnational issues. He writes and has published books on fiction and creative non-fiction. He is a member of the Manunuring Pelikulang Pilipino (Filipino Film Critics Group), Altermidya (People's Alternative Media Network), and Congress of Teachers and Educators for Nationalism and Democracy (CONTEND-UP).

E. SAN JUAN, JR. earned his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard University after graduating from the University of the Philippines, summa cum laude. He is a highly respected academic, scholar and creative writer who has taught at various universities in the US, Europe and Asia. He has won awards, received grants and fellowships nationally and internationally for his critical and scholarly works as well as his creative writing. He is a retired Professor of English, Comparative Literature and Ethnic Studies from the University of Connecticut at Storrs, and was Chair of the Department of Comparative American Cultures at Washington State University, US. He was recently a professorial lecturer in cultural studies at the Polytechnic University of the Philippines and is currently visiting professor of English & Comparative Literature, University of the Philippines, Diliman

(Spring 2018). His recent books are Learning from the Filipino Diaspora (UST Publishing House), Between Empire and Insurgency (U.P. Press), Lupang Hinirang, Lupang Tinubuan & Filipinas Everywhere (De La Salle Publishing House), Critical Interventions (Lambert); and Carlos Bulosan: A Critical Appraisal (Peter Lang). His recent collection of poems in Filipino are Ulikba, Kundiman sa Gitna ng Karimlan, Ambil, Wala, and Bakas/Alingawngaw.

Dr. HOPE YU is Professor at the University of San Carlos, Cebu City where she also currently serves as the Director of the Cebuano Studies Center. She is chair of the National Committee for Literary Arts (NCLA) of the National Commission for Culture and the Arts (NCCA) and the commissioner of the Cebuano language of the Komisyon sa Wikang Filipino. She is a scholar, creative writer and translator. Her poetry has been published in several collections: Paglaum (2000), Ang Tingog ni Maria (2001), Beads (2002) and Mga Dad-onon sa Biyahe (2004). She edited two anthologies of interviews with Cebuano writers, Kapulongan: Conversations with Cebuano Writers (2008), and Kulokabildo: Dialogues with Cebuano Writers (2009) published by the USC Cebuano Studies Center. Hope has also translated several authors of Cebuano fiction. Mila's Mother (2008), published by the National Commission for Culture and the Arts, is a translation of Austregelina Espina-Moore. She is the author of The Other(ed) Woman: Critical Essays (2014) published by the National Commission for Culture and the Arts.